

La Strada Czech Republic
and
Aim for human rights

cordially invite you to a presentation:

“Anti-trafficking policies and measures: Do they protect people’s rights?”

Wednesday 18 November 2009
Institute of International Relations Prague, Nerudova 3, Prague 1 15.30 – 16.45h

The presentation is followed by an informal gathering.

---

Speakers:

Irena Konečná, La Strada Czech Republic

Co-organiser of the second project group meeting to develop an assessment tool

Victoria Nwogu, UNDP Sierra Leone

Board member of the Global Alliance Against Trafficking of Women

Ruth Morgan Thomas, SCOT-PEP, UK

Chair of the International Committee on Sex Workers Rights in Europe

Chair person:

Saskia Bakker, Aim for human rights, the Netherlands

Coordinator of the international project: “Assessment of the human rights impact of anti-trafficking laws and measures”

---

The project: “Assessment of the human rights impact of anti trafficking laws and measures” is funded by the European Commission and co-funded by the Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs

More information: <http://www.aimforhumanrights.org/themes/women-s-human-rights/trafficking-in-persons/>